

Leading the field

The hotel industry has never forgotten what counts – comfort and durability. Hotel designers have long included wallcoverings in their schemes. Contract vinyl wallcoverings can't be beaten and Tektura wallcoverings are leaders in this field.

TEKTURA specialise in vinyl finishes, and they are designed to last – they need to be, they are used in commercial interiors, hospitals, schools, hotels, finance, corporate head office and high street stores.

Design

Around since the 60's, Tektura wallcoverings have a reputation for innovative and sophisticated designs, covering all the basic textures and prints, but including a myriad of abstracts, extraordinary embosses, and trompe l'oeil. There are smooth or chunky textures, minimalist or opulent effects in neutral, accent, and metallic colours. These are not effects that can be recreated with paint.

Nowadays, the design choice is limited only by an individual's imagination. In addition to Tektura's standard vinyl collections, are metallics, natural fibres, hand-painted finishes, grasscloths, glass beads, and real mother of pearl wallcoverings.

Tektura regularly launch new designs – 25 in the last 12 months – recent intros include shagreen, ostrich and lizard skin effects, giant damasks, florals and leaf prints, wood and woven leather embossed designs. Tektura's designs have also won industry awards for innovation, affordability and design.

Samples, catalogues and bespoke design

For all Tektura ranges, catalogues, samples and trial lengths are available on request. For clients requiring a bespoke design, Tektura offer a full custom service, and also offer digital printing, to create giant or continuous one-off wall designs and murals.

Technical

The term 'contract' refers to quality and durability. Imagine a hotel corridor, with suitcases and chambermaids' trolleys bashing into the walls. A contract wallcovering will resist knocks and scrapes, it will also protect the wall underneath, as well as providing a decorative finish. All Tektura vinyl wallcoverings are durable and made to last.

The ranges are quality controlled, conforming to British and European fire regulations for public buildings. They are lightfast, washable and scrubbable. Tektura carry out ongoing research with their customers to also check trends, practical requirements and technical performance.

Tektura's team will advise on all aspects of wallcovering – design, suitability, installation, maintenance, and repair. We will give guidance to designers, decorators and installers, and offer full support throughout all stages of a project.
